We are pleased to invite you to participate in the Symposium on Old-Age Income Security and Universal Basic Income in South Asia on 27 February, 2017 at NIPFP Auditorium, New Delhi. This day-long symposium is organized by the Social Development Division of UNESCAP in collaboration with the National Institute of Public Finance and Policy (NIPFP), with the support of the ESCAP South and South-West Asia Office, New Delhi.

The objectives of the Symposium are (a) to disseminate the results of study on income security for older persons in India; (b) to share experience in providing income security for older persons in South Asia; and (c) to develop recommendations on providing income security for older persons in the sub-region. The event will be attended by experts from Government, civil society, academia and development practitioners involved in the design of or research on the provision of social protection.

The keynote address will be delivered by Mr. Hemant Contractor, Chairman, Pension Fund Regulatory and Development Authority, Government of India. The symposium will also discuss the issue of the Universal Basic Income in India with a high-level panel in the afternoon on that topic.
